

SIX MODELS OF PSYCHOSOCIAL INTERVENTION

Fănel STROE¹

Abstract: The paper presents a new method of psychosocial intervention. The effect hierarchy hypothesis states that in order to change, a person's behavior has to undergo three phases: the cognitive phase, the emotional phase and the behavioral phase.

Key words: model, information-interest-action sequence, psychological determinism thesis.

* Transilvania University of Brasov.