

NONINVASIVE DIAGNOSIS OF HEPATIC FIBROSIS IN CHRONIC VIRAL C HEPATITIS

University Assistant Alice Dragu, MD
Faculty of Medicine, “Transilvania” University Brasov

Viral C hepatitis is an important problem of health in our period, which is referred to as chronic whenever the patients still have clinical symptoms or abnormal hepatic functional test six months after the onset of the disease. Hepatic biopsy is necessary to determinate the main forms of hepatitis, but noninvasive tests may also be used.