

DIAGNOSTIC PROBLEMS IN A PATIENT WITH SPLENOMEGALY

Assist. Claudia Gavriş, MD, Assist. Alice Dragu, MD
Faculty of Medicine, “Transilvania” University Brasov

It is presented the case of a 30 years old patient hospitalised for pain in the left hypochondrium, spleen and liver volume increase, frequently hospitalised for a painful dyspeptic syndrome treated with Omeprazole.